

Cary Jones

Lane 61 Mingde Rd. No. 4, 5F
Xindian District, New Taipei City, 231
+886.0910.603.820 | cgjonesme@gmail.com

Objective

Native English speaker from the United States with a Bachelor's degree in Computer Electronics, seeking a part-time English teaching position at WOCA. Passionate about helping professionals improve their conversational English skills for business communication and negotiation, particularly in the context of property insurance and current business affairs.

Education

Associate of Science in Computer Electronics

ITT Technical Institute — San Diego, CA, 2013

Skills

- Clear and professional English communication tailored for business contexts.
- Experience presenting and discussing technical and business topics with diverse audiences.
- Strong understanding of corporate environments, negotiation, and cross-cultural communication.
- Adaptive and engaging instructional techniques to foster meaningful conversation and learning.
- Punctual, reliable, and committed to professional development.

Relevant Experience

Senior Software Engineer | Various Companies

2016–2023 (Remote Roles)

- Led and participated in cross-cultural teams, enhancing understanding of global business practices and effective communication techniques.
- Regularly communicated and negotiated with international stakeholders, providing insights into cross-cultural dynamics.
- Delivered presentations and led discussions on complex topics, ensuring clarity and engagement for all participants.

Python API Developer | Foresight International Education Center

August 2013–April 2014

- Provided training and workshops to junior developers, employing clear and concise communication to foster understanding of technical concepts.
- Demonstrated ability to facilitate discussions around specialized topics, similar to business-focused English conversations.

Marine Corps Recruit | San Diego, CA

1995

- Developed discipline, leadership, and interpersonal skills essential for guiding and mentoring groups effectively.

Interests

- Business communication and cultural exchange.
- Staying informed about global business trends and current events.
- Exploring innovative methods for effective language learning in professional settings.